Spring Into Your New Home

*"Fill a house with love
and it becomes a home."*

Spring is a time for redecorating, cleaning, and celebrating loved ones.

It is also the time of the year when people tend to purchase new homes and change out the old for the new.

Tips On How to Spring into Your New Home

If you are at a complete loss as to how you should redesign, you may want to consider having a Paysage interior designer come in.

We will help you to formalize what you want to accomplish, what pieces will best fit your style, and how to turn your house into a home.

When you are ready for new home décor, be sure to invest in pieces that will last.

By putting in the money for quality furniture, you are making an investment that will last a lifetime.

A NEW HUE

Pale Dogwood

This reproduction of French handmade wallpaper is just an example of one of the many products in the Pale Dogwood color.

From Pantone's Colors of Spring 2017, we have decided to highlight the color:

"Pale Dogwood."

Pale Dogwood is a neutral color, which is perfect for any color scheme you are working with.

Pale Dogwood has been popular among designers because of its ability to resemble pink and femininity, but still have a sense of sophistication about it.

Be on the lookout to see more of all the spring 2017 colors in our décor pieces!

Crêpes au Grand Marnier

Did You Know...?

La Chandeleur, or Crêpe day, is February 2nd!

On this day, crêpes are offered in respect to purification and fecundity. In France, it has become a day where families spend time together while eating crêpes. For this month we are sharing Gigi's recipe of Crêpes au Grand Marnier!

*Paysage Dessert Dish with Dome, $55

INGREDIENTS :

125 gr all purpose flour

1/4 liter milk or 250 cc.

25 gm plain sugar

1 pinch salt

2 eggs

30 gm melted butter

Extra butter to cook the crêpes

100 ml Grand Marnier (Red Ribbon)

Method:

Pour $\frac{2}{3}$ of the milk in a bowl add salt, sugar, eggs, and flour

Beat well with an electric hand beater

Add rest of milk and the 30 gm of melted but still warm butter

Cook each crêpe using some of the extra butter, flip to cook the other side

Serving Suggestions:

Fold each crêpe alone in four, arrange in a nice large new looking skillet (because you will be serving it at a table).

Melt some butter by moving the whole skillet

Let the skillet heat for about 5 seconds on high heat (important to have a successful flambe).

Add the zest of one orange.

Pour 100 ml of Grand Marnier over the hot skillet with the crêpe, let heat another 5 sec.

Flambé!! Caution not to have your face close to the skillet or any children around.

Wait till the flame dies down, place the crêpe on a dessert dish* and...

Enjoy!

BREAKING NEWS:

GIGI GOES TO MARKET

On the Midnight Train from Georgia...

Interior designers, Gigi Horsley and Judy Watford, are back from Atlanta Market! We have the inside scoop on their experience and what we should look forward to seeing!

1. What was your favorite thing about market this year?

GH: We are officially walking away from the "ALL neutral." Colors are back!

JW: We discovered an imaginative, artistic new furniture line for our store and I can't wait until everyone can see it!

2. What colors were big or used frequently from vendors?

GH: Pinks and oranges, used as free flowing drips of color or as wallpaper to get an interesting background.

JW: Dusty blues, shadowy greys, simple greens, earthy taupes but light pinks caught my eye.

3. Did you find any new vendors that you liked?

GH: Stay tuned! We will let you know soon!

JW: Yes and we can't wait to let everyone see them!

4. What are some pieces that we should expect to see in Paysage soon?

GH: A selection of pieces to be used as special elements in your space (because of the fabric or because of unforgettable details) and creating a restful and chic environment.

JW: "Unexpected" chairs, elegant sconces, and accessories that you won't be able to live without.
