NEW ARRIVALS FROM MARKET!

THE BEST TRAFFIC: RUGS

A rug may be considered an accessory, but it can be the foundation of a gorgeous space.

An area rug should be the "soul of your room," and the "color scheme, furniture placement and accessories should all connect back to it."

TIPS:

PUT TWO FEET OF FURNITURE ON THE RUG:

How many furniture legs do you put on a rug?", is a question we get asked all the time! The traditional way is to put all four furniture legs on the rug but I prefer just to put the front two legs.

PLACE RUG 12-18 INCHES AWAY FROM THE WALL.

Let's talk about spacing for a second. We follow a 12-18 inch rule. That allows us to make sure the rug fills the space but does not cover all the flooring underneath.

LET'S START WITH THE BASICS, SHALL WE?

A NEW HUE: Pale Dogwood

A quiet and peaceful shade of pink, Pale Dogwood offers slight brown undertones. This is a different kind of pink. It's softer, less saturated, and more calm. We're changing the way people think about the female experience. It's a time to embrace femininity while redefining it.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

CHÂTEAU LIFE

LIFE

In a busy modern life, meals are often relegated to five- or ten-minute time slots. The French have long been lauded as culinary experts, and the emphasis they place on time spent around the dinner table is yet another secret worth borrowing. Living la vie de château at Château Bosgouet in Normandy, Jane Webster and her Australian family have embraced the traditions of the French table with surprise and delight at each turn, from navigating the market to setting the table to making the most of a vegetable garden, and their adventures are captured here by the sophisticated eye of photographer Robyn Lea.

These sixty recipes—organized around ten themes, including holiday traditions, lunch box contents, joie de vivre, and the French Sunday lunch—are a sensational catalog of the Webster clan’s favorite food moments. The double-baked three-cheese soufflé, chicken and tarragon pies, or lemon curd panna cotta with fresh summer berries are just a few of the featured dishes, all of which, when paired with good conversation and company, are ideal catalysts for creating an occasion remembered for years to come. Fresh, seasonal ingredients are always highlighted, as is the value of setting aside as much time as possible for these all-important meals shared with family and friends.

L'ELIXIR D'AMOUR

ELIXIR OF LOVE

FEATURED: 6.3 OZ CANDLE
$70

The Elixir of Love is a comic opera in two acts by Gaetano Donizetti. The opera premiered on May 12, 1832 at the Teatro della Canobbiana in Milan. Like Tristan and Iseult drinking the love potion that link them forever to each other, Nemorino would like to obtain this precious elixir to seduce the beautiful Adina. This potion with notes of tea, woody and spicy will help him to fulfill his dreams and to marry the woman he loves.

ROSE RADIO

GIGI'S FEBRUARY MUSIC CHOICE

Rose performs a unique brand of acoustic Folk-Pop. Her songs are very honest and personal, which is part of her charm. Who can resist a cute, sweet French girl, strumming a guitar, playing her own songs? This singer has a girl-next-door demeanor that's endearing to fans. Her voice is just a wee bit raspy and husky, which adds a sense of emotion and vulnerability to everything she sings. If you like Folk and acoustic music, check out her top songs and albums.

Though she's been writing songs since she was 8, she didn't sign her first record deal until she was 27. Before that, she went to law school (wow!) and worked as an elementary school teacher. Her late start in the music business did not keep her from making a huge splash.

Lumina Station

We are excited to pair up with our neighbor, Brasserie du Soleil on February 6th, from 6:00 until 8:00 p.m. for a wonderful locally inspired event.

Being a city with a small-town feel it is important to encourage support for fellow privately owned businesses like ourselves. Every year Lee Industries helps us support that with special events, such as these.

We are happy to be partnering with Changin' Ways Farm. Owner, David Borkowski found the opportunity to strike out on his own starting with a small herd of pigs when he first moved to Hampstead. David strives to have a full-fledged meat and vegetable producing operation that stays true to the philosophy of Local Fresh Sustainable while ensuring the products that Changin' Ways delivers are of the highest quality and produced in a manner that is not only environmentally conscious but cost-conscious as well.

Join us for delicious oysters, champagne and company as we come together as one for the evening.

We are excited to pair up with Raleigh City Farm on February 8th, from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m. for a wonderful locally inspired event.

Being the capital of North Carolina, it is important to encourage support for organizations who are game-changers in our communities by bringing us together. Lee Industries helps us support that with special events such as these every year.

We are grateful to be partnering with Raleigh City Farm, a nonprofit urban farm founded in 2011 on a formerly vacant one-acre lot in downtown Raleigh. They believe in the power of urban farms to create healthier communities and re-connect city-dwellers with healthy food production through more frequent encounters with agriculture.

Join us for delicious oysters, champagne and company as we come together as one.
