AULICA

Founded in 1978, PROM ORF Diffusion is a family company located in Aubagne in the South of France near Marseille. The company was born from the passion of Mr Jacques Stora, goldsmith from father to son, who in the 1970s was able to adapt to environmental and commercial changes, to develop an additional sector: importation.

As an importer, we offer a wide range of items with over 2000 table products ranging from plates and glasses, to cutlery and coffee cups. Lionel and Carine have created their distribution brand: "Aulica". Aulica is distributed in specialty stores for gifts, wedding lists, tableware and culinary arts.

MOUSKOURI

A global pop icon, Greek-born Nana Mouskouri is one of the most recognizable and beloved singers of her generation. Her fluency in multiple languages -- Greek, French, English, Spanish, Italian, Portuguese -- enabled her to reach audiences all over Europe, the Americas, and even Asia. Possessed of a distinctive, angelic soprano, Mouskouri, who burst onto the international scene in the early 1960s, was sometimes described as Europe's answer to Barbra Streisand. Her repertoire was varied enough to support the universal appeal she aimed for: jazz standards, well-known pop tunes from before and after the rock era, French cabaret chansons, movie songs, classical and operatic repertory, religious music, folk songs from her native Greece and elsewhere, and more
